NED KENSING

Chic and cutting edge. These words best describe Ned Kensing and his approach to haircuts and style.

Bursting on the scene 10 years ago, Ned trained with Jose Eber, known throughout the world for his fashion forward, sexy haircuts. Ned quickly showed a talent and passion for haircuts that are stylish and edgy, rising to become a senior stylist in only a few short years.

Ned has traveled all over the world to learn new techniques and trends. He has attended the renowned Vidal Sassoon Academy in London, Bumble and Bumble University, Aveda Institute and Tony and Guy New York.

In 2001, Ned joined the posh Warren Tricomi Salon as a senior stylist, and he quickly became one of the most sought-after stylists in the area. In 2004, he was named Artistic Director for PURE Salon Aveda, an upscale salon in Greenwich, Connecticut. In addition to taking care of his thriving clientele, Ned was also responsible for training the salon staff--keeping them current on new styles.

Ned's work is his passion. He continues to educate young stylists, conducting hair cutting classes and seminars, while also participating yearly with Aveda for Fashion Week in New York City.

Now he brings the looks and styles from the runways of New York to an exclusive clientele in Fairfield and Westchester Counties at Salon 221.
